

WU Wellness Club Pink Volleyball Tournament

- 1) This project benefited Washburn University by giving students the opportunity to get involved on campus and raise money to support breast cancer awareness. The students were able to show a positive side of their personality by taking time out of their Saturday to raise money for such a great cause. I feel that our event was successful in achieving the goal of involving a variety of students and gathering them together to promote breast cancer, which affects millions of men and women every year. Breast cancer is such a terrible disease, but we were able to shed a positive light on the topic, and provide encouragement for all who have been personally affected by this form of cancer.
- 2.) This project benefited our organization by promoting awareness of breast cancer, and as a result, our organization, and supporting our mission of living a healthy life style. All of the participants had a great time doing something that was not only good for themselves, but also good for those suffering from breast cancer today. Because we have a small organization, it was important to get our name out in the Washburn community and let students know what we represent and how we are willing to participate in various activities to support causes that fall within our mission as a group. We love getting the opportunity to encourage others to live a healthy life style, and this event was even more beneficial because of the charity aspect that was involved.
